

The Lesnes Hundred

The Lesnes Hundred by Eric MacLennan

Earlier this year, (January to May 2021) Artist Eric MacLennan interviewed a hundred members of the public (people of all ages and backgrounds) who all came forward to name a tree in Lesnes Abbey Woods after someone important to them... an unsung hero(ine).

This map will help you to find the trees now named after these extraordinary people... The Lesnes Hundred. A celebration of people. A celebration of trees.

The title of the work – The Lesnes Hundred – gives an acknowledging nod to the ancient name of the area that included Lesnes Abbey Woods, which was known in the 1100s as “The Hundred of Little and Lesnes”. A “hundred” is term used to describe a division of land that was used around a thousand years ago in England.
